⑥ The agent will ask you a series of questions to diagnose the issue, such as the type of transaction and any error messages you received. Answer these promptly so they can move forward with the troubleshooting process. 📋

⑦ They will then access your account and identify the root cause of the declined transaction. Ask the agent to explain the specific reason so you understand what happened and how to prevent it in the future.

⑧ Finally, ask the agent to confirm that your card is now working and attempt the transaction again if possible before you hang up. This ensures that the issue is fully resolved.
